

Stratford Mews

PAVING

*S*tratiford Mews was created using ancient hand cut stone from the north of England. It's distinctive authentic worn finish, a legacy of the weather and the passing of thousands of pairs of feet over many years. The soft limestone and yockstone shades are carefully blended to echo the character of the stone and the skills of the craftsmen who lovingly hand dressed the slabs all these years ago.

Full of character, Stratford Mews has a certain empathy creating a sense of mood and atmosphere within every home and garden. The variety of sizes allows for a truly random effect to be achieved and when combined with other Bowland products, stunning effects can be achieved.

With a variety of sizes and a multitude of textures which truly replicate traditional natural random paving the old world charm of Stratford Mews is a prestigious addition to any home and garden.
